MINERS REVIVED*More Than 120 Entombed
By Mine Explosion At Dawson, N. M.Dawson, N. M., Feb. 9.—Hope that some of the 118 entombed men in Mine No. 1 of the Phelps-Dodge company would be recovered alive was expressed here shortly before noon today, when word reached guards at the mouth of the mine that two men had been found alive by rescue workers.Four additional miners believed to be alive also were reported being brought out. At that hour seven bodies had been removed.The cause of the explosion has not been determined. According to a statement issued by company officials, the mine was known as a non-gaseous working and was equipped with a sprinkling system.The main force of the explosion vented its way through the intake airway which is in the main haulage road and upon reaching the surface demolished the concrete portal which resulted in the haulageway caving in at that point.A woman was arrested in the Portage hotel where Cox was found. Her name is withheld but she is said to be connected in some way with the former transportation manager, and she was taken with him to Alliance to be used as a witness.The blast was so terrific that it is believed all the men in the mine—124 to 126—suffered almost immediate death.Entrance Is Blocked
The first crew of rescue workers to explore the demolished mine found two dead only a short distance from the entrance.Telegraph and telephone wires leading from the mine to the blast and word of the disaster did not reach the outside world for more than two hours.Immediately rescue workers from Raton, New Mexico, Trinidad, Colo., were summoned and aiding the rescue crews of the owners of the mine, they started clearing away the mass of earth and rock that blocked the entrance to the mine.Practically every able-bodied man in Dawson is at work today in an effort to remove bodies of the victims.The workers have encountered much gas, however, leading to the belief that the explosion was from this cause.NEW BONUS BILL

the senate military affairs committee measure would grant each World War veteran a $20 a month bonus and re-charges of kidnapping, murderous as-confession of the kidnapping of Hoiles was obtained from Wade Russell, Cox's alleged accomplice in the affair which took place six months ago.According to the Alliance autho-refused $6,000, because he claimed Hoiles had injured him and his business in the Review.Cox was taken back to Alliance and will be given a preliminary hearing some time today on the Hoiles' charges.In the meantime Alliance autho-

Handling Auto Tags

A PROSPECTIVE loss of nearly one half million dollars annually to the state of Ohio, is threatened in the obvious inefficiency reflected in the proposed bill advocated by Gov. Donahue, abolishing the present department of automobile registration and substituting in its stead, a similar agency to be established at the Ohio penitentiary.

It is also proposed to take away from the various automobile clubs the agency of distribution of automobile tags and have the county treasurers do the work. The automobile clubs perform this work gratis, and save the state of Ohio, in personal service, approximately $260,000 a year. If these agencies save the state $260,000 a year, it is only to be expected that this burden will be saddled on the counties, as it would be necessary for the county treasurers to provide many extra clerks to properly handle the distribution of tags.

The cost of issuing a set of tags is 30 cents, in the state of Ohio. In practically all other states the cost is over one dollar per set. In California it is nearly two dollars; in the state of Pennsylvania, there are 425 employees in the automobile registration bureau. In Ohio there are 70 employees, despite the fact that Ohio has a few more automobiles than has state of Pennsylvania.

It is the contention of many legislators that the counties are having enough trouble meeting expenses without having this additional burden thrust upon them.

A National Horror

SINCE the advent of prohibition the use of narcotics in America has reached appalling proportions. The United States consumes more morphine and cocaine than all the rest of the world combined. The illicit dealers in these agencies of destruction are to be found everywhere, not only in the cities, but in the villages and the countryside as well. The horror attained its climax when it became known that these wares are being sold to young boys and girls in the schools.

If the conditions resulting from prohibition now constitute a national scandal, as President Harding has said, the conditions resulting from the criminal traffic in drugs constitute a national horror. Youth, health, beauty, honor, manhood and womanhood are being destroyed. It is well, therefore, that the federal authority is moving to save this people from universal poisoning, from the degeneracy which follows the excessive use of the terrible and seductive agencies which make the admitted ravages of alcohol appear trivial in comparison.

The resolution introduced by Rep. Porter, which provides that the president shall call on the six countries in which are grown the raw materials from which all narcotics are derived, to limit production to the amounts actually required for medical and scientific purposes, should be regarded as among the most important legislative proposals suggested in years.

WAX IS PRODUCT OF INSECTS

Important Export of Chinese Province Deposited on Trees and Gathered in Its Season.

White wax, one of the most important exports of the province of Szechuan, in China, is chiefly found in the districts of Kiating, Chechwei and Ipin, and along the Yangtze river in the vicinity of these places. It is a substance deposited on trees by insects known as wax insects. Once a year — in March—they are collected from the regions on the border of Yunan by the wax-worm raisers, and are placed on polished trees, either ash or privet, which are mostly grown in Kiating and neighboring districts.

Speed is essential in the removal of these insects, or they would batch out before they get to the wax districts, and would thus be wasted.

Therefore, the coolies generally travel in relays so as to reach the destination in time for the hatching.

When the moult period is over, the worms begin to deposit the wax on the leaves of the trees. This process continues up to the end of August, when the wax is collected. After dissolving in boiling water, it is usually moulded into cakes of various sizes and shapes.

STILL JOINTS

Pharmacists Call it "Joint Ease" Because It's for Swollen, Sore, Painful, Creaky Joints Only

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, painful joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick, worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, pain-distorted or stiff joints, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet, because of its penetrating action, but it is really recommended for joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds' rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to get rid of all joint trouble.

All druggists dispense it daily for about 60 cents a tube as do first class druggists everywhere.

IRISH ARMISTICE PROPOSED, REPORT

Dublin, Feb. 9.—The Irish peace campaign took a sensational turn today when a statement, signed by Liam Deasy, chief of staff of the Republican irregulars, was issued, urging the Republicans to lay down their arms, but under protest.

Later the authenticity of the statement was questioned and it was attributed to a faction of the Republicans hostile to Deasy. Up to noon it had been impossible to obtain a statement from Deasy. Friends said that the statement was written on January 29 and had been in the hands of rebel leaders since that date.

President Cosgrave of the Dail iraann, head of the Irish Free State government, was reported in London today on a mission closely linked with little peace negotiations.

Wants Boys Rules For County Girls Basketball Games

Plans for the elimination of girls basketball rules among county scholastic teams will be brought up Saturday afternoon at the meeting of the Columbian County Scholastic Athletic Association to be held at Lisbon, according to announcement made Friday.

Supt. of Schools Tuttle of Columbian will ask members of the county association to consider having the girls scholastic teams play under boys rules next season, it was stated. This plan has been followed with great success among other schools in the state and the matter will be discussed by the county officials at this meeting.

A number of important matters dealing with county scholastic athletics will be discussed at the meeting. Plans for the annual track and field meet will be considered. The meeting has been called by Supt. Ladd of East Palestine, president of the county organization.

"Patriotism is not measured only in time of war," said Mr. Campbell in his address to the scouts following the investiture service. "It is measured in time of peace by your everyday actions and living," he continued.

The early life of Abraham Lincoln, his efforts at self education and later success as president of the United States, were recited by the speaker, who urged that the boys remember that related to serving "their God and country," and that by doing this they would make themselves 100 per cent Americans and real citizens of their country.

Harman Addresses School

The observance of "Boy Scout Day" was held yesterday morning at the Salem High school, with an address by Rev. J. P. Harman, Salem scoutmaster, and the presentation of four one-act playlets dealing with scout activities, written by school students.

Rev. Mr. Harman spoke to the assembly on "Boy Scout Laws" and laid special stress on trustworthiness. He told of the use of this law by the scouts in the school life and everyday work.

The playlets, each of which portrayed one phase of the Boy Scout laws, were enacted in an excellent manner. Today is known as "School day" in the Anniversary week observance by the Boy Scouts over the United States.

Dr. Yaggi Speaks

At the Junior High school Dr. H. K. Yaggi outlined the principles of Boy Scout work, as the feature of the observance there.

Dr. Yaggi urged the scouts to make every effort to increase their membership in Salem and cited the value of such an organization in school life as well as in later life. He lauded the work of the Boy Scout organization and explained the purposes of the Anniversary week observance.

FLU GERM DISCOVERED LODGES FIRST IN NOSE

Rockefeller Foundation Scientists Succeed In Isolating Germ Which Has Killed 25 Million People In 10 Years.

After years of research work the Rockefeller Foundation announce that physicians have now discovered the Influenza Germ. The investigation has resulted in the discovery of a previously unknown and very minute germ, which is present in the nose and throat during the first 36 hours of Influenza infection, as the condition is technically known.

This germ the doctors say was not found in the nose and throats of persons in perfectly healthy condition. The condition of the delicate tissues of the nose therefore plays an important part in keeping down this dreaded disease which has in recent years killed so many million of persons.

A mild form of this "Flu" is now present and the public is warned to watch particularly the hidden back passages of the nose, where these dangerous germs first start and breed enough other germs to contaminate the entire system.

Statistics show that from May 1910 to March 1919, 25,000,000 people died from influenza throughout the world. The epidemic of 1918 killed thousands in both the allied and German armies.

The new germ, the doctors say is so small that it can pass thru the pores of an earthenware filter and when magnified 1,000 times is just capable of being seen.

For the proper strengthening of the nasal passages to resist these germs, daily care of the nose should be resorted to. We wash our hands, clean our teeth, rinse out our mouth, but what is being done to get rid of the myriad of germs that are lodging every minute in the hairs of the nose or nesting into the delicate tissues of the back passages of the nose, and springing into life and activity?

These delicate tissues can be fortified against this disease. A few drops of Nozol dropped into the nose with a dropper (which comes with every bottle) or sprayed in with an atomizer night and morning keeps the back passages of the nose in a healthy condition.

Thousands are now using Nozol daily to protect themselves from the ravages of colds, influenza and grippe. Have a bottle of Nozol, the perfect nose preparation, at home and in your office and keep the delicate membranes of the nasal passage sterile and in a healthy condition.

Start Nozol protection now. One bottle which you can obtain at any druggist will last thru the entire season and give you clear, healthy nose breathing and healthy nose tissues to resist the ravages of cold and flu germs.

If you wait longer, you are apt to cause wear on the delicate parts. That will be expensive for you. Step in today and have your watch examined. Frogs for Bad Throats.

Even today many people have strange beliefs and superstitions. All sorts of quaint rites are carried out, particularly in connection with children.

Some mothers, for instance, believe in cutting their baby's hair at the waxing of the moon. This ceremony dates back for thousands of years to the days when people regarded it as a safeguard against evil.

Another silly superstition is that of giving children live frogs to suck. This is supposed to prevent and cure "thrush," or injury to the throat. Again, there are still women who think that they will improve their children's health by eating raisins and placing the stones on the baby's stomach.

Modern science is rapidly abolishing these old ideas, but they still hold their ground in certain places.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and luster to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

Timely Thoughts.

A well-known lawyer was chiding a legal friend for passing him in a motorcar without recognition.

"Sorry I didn't see you," said his friend. "Was — driving?"

"Yes," said the lawyer. "Well," rejoined his friend, "when — is driving you think only of your Master and not of your earthly friends!"

Lisbon, Feb. 9.—With the opening of spring John H. Hinchliffe, president of the Chamber of Commerce, is rounding up plans looking toward the equipment of the children's playgrounds, to be established on the lot in the rear of the Standard Oil company filling and service station on South Jefferson st. A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be called soon, when a lease covering the grounds will be drawn up.

This plot of ground has been donated to the town free of any charge for a playground for the children of Lisbon and the Chamber of Com-

FIERY ITCHY ECZEMA HEALED RIGHT UP BY APPLYING SULPHUR

Any breaking out of the skin, even fiery, itching eczema, can be quickly overcome by applying a little Meno-Sulphur, says a noted skin specialist. Because of its germ destroying properties, this sulphur preparation instantly brings ease from skin irritation, soothes and heals the eczema right up and leaves the skin clean and smooth.

It seldom fails to relieve the torment and disfigurement. Sufferers from skin trouble should get a little jar of Rowles Meno-Sulphur from any good druggist and use it like a cold cream.

CITIES NOT PAYING THEIR SHARE

Rural Districts Bearing Work-men's Compensation Burden.

EXAMINERS SUBMIT REPORT

Recommend That Raising of Funds Be Based on Actual Hazards and Not on Percentage of Payrolls of Subdivisions—Davis' Proposal for Four Year Term for Governor to Be Embodied in Resolution.

Columbus, Feb. 9.—Cities are not paying their share of the burden toward financing the Ohio workmen's compensation fund, according to a report filed with State Auditor Tracy by George W. Damon and Roy E. Kirk, state examiners.

The examiners declare the rural districts pay too much in proportion to the number of awards made to them. This conclusion was reached following an examination which covers the fund since its origin in 1913 down to Jan. 1, 1922. They recommend the raising of funds be based on the actual hazards under which public employees in various districts work and not on a percentage of the payrolls of the subdivisions, as is now the system.

It is pointed out by the examiners that the school portion has a surplus of $468,517. This, they claim, grows because the amounts paid in are much larger than the awards made. Payments from this source, they say, should be stopped now and the surplus put out at interest, which would amount annually to $23,000. This interest would be $8,000 more than actually needed annually for the school division, according to past averages.

That low hazard districts are too heavily assessed for the amount of compensation received in case any employees are injured, the examiners cite the townships of Cuyahoga county, which have contributed six times to the fund and have received but $87 in return. This condition exists all over the state, it is claimed. Cities where vast networks of electric wires exact a heavy toll each year do not pay enough to the fund, it is charged, and are "carried" by the low hazard districts.

To substantiate the claim that the cities of Ohio get more than they give, the examiners submitted the following: Cleveland paid in $182,948, awarded $316,417; Columbus paid in $61,178, awarded $129,202; Cincinnati paid in $65,779, awarded $95,299; Toledo paid in $36,948, awarded $62,599; Akron paid in $24,388, awarded $25,260; Youngstown paid in $8,764, awarded $12,177.

The present law provides cities, counties and townships contribute 1 per cent of their annual payrolls to the fund and that school districts pay one-tenth of 1 per cent. Members of the industrial commission in 1921 recommended the law be changed to compel cities to pay 1 to 5 per cent of their annual payrolls; counties 1 to 2 per cent and incorporated villages and other taxing districts not less than 1 per cent. Examiners object to this plan also and stick to their hazard proportion.

Thirty-three new bills were introduced in the house and five bills in the senate, on the reconvening of the general assembly Monday evening. In addition there were offered two resolutions to amend the constitution, one of them by Cope of Columbiana County proposing a poll tax for the support of the public schools and another by Kasch of Summit county, proposing recall of judges.

Senator Birch of Summit county introduced a proposal providing that the entire subject of a minimum wage for women be referred to a legislative committee for study. The author stated that the assembly did not have sufficient information at present on the advisability of a minimum wage law, and pointed out that the National Civic Federation and other distinguished bodies are now making a study and have advised state legislators to postpone the bill. A minimum wage resolution say they will fight the proposal. They see in it a movement to sidetrack the minimum wage bill.

Representative Vorys of Franklin county fosters a bill to transfer the state school for the blind from the department of welfare to the department of education. The change is urged largely for sentimental reasons, but it was pointed out by Welfare Director Harper to the committee on benevolent and penal institutions of the house last week that this is the first departure from the centralization of administration of state institutions established under Governor Harmon in 1911 and may be the opening toward a general decentralization of the 23 state institutions now under the state welfare department.

Superintendents of these institutions complain that they had not been given the attention by the welfare director which their institutions deserved. Superintendent Jones of the school for the deaf said that the former welfare director had visited the institution only twice in the two years he was in office and that he had not been permitted to make direct appeal to the legislature for much needed appropriations. Complaints of the heads of these schools will be used, it is said, as an argument for restoration of the board system to replace the one-man welfare director.

It is expected that a resolution embodying former Governor Davis' plan for a four-year term for governor will be introduced in the house this week.

Representative Kasch, Democrat of Akron, already has such a bill in the house, but says he will withdraw his measure and support the plan of Governor Davis, provided the latter will submit to the voters along with the term extender his proposal for recall of the governor and other state officials.

"If the term of the governor is made four years then there should be provision made for recall," Kasch says. He proposes that recall proceedings could be instituted any time after the first six months of the governor's term. Twenty-five per cent of the voters would have to petition for the recall and their charges would have to be limited to a statement of 200 words, which would be printed on the ballot with the proposal.

It is said Republican leaders in the house will sponsor Davis' proposal. To change the term it will be necessary to amend the constitution at the next November election. If the change is adopted it would mean that the gubernatorial elections would be combined with presidential elections every four years.

While Davis proposes only to lengthen the term of the governor, moves are expected to include also the secretary of state, attorney general and state treasurer in this proposal and bills have already been introduced in the assembly to make several more county offices four-year jobs. At present county auditors and county commissioners have a four-year term.

It has been discovered that no provision is made in the budget now before the legislature for taking care of subsidies which the state failed to pay last year under the Hughes-Griswold act. Under this law the state is supposed to pay half of the salaries of health commissioners and public health nurses, but no money was appropriated for this two years ago and there was a deficit of $125,000 up to Jan. 1, which will be increased to $200,000 by July 1. It will take all that has been appropriated for the next two years to make up this deficit, which would mean that no subsidies could be paid to any of the health districts after July 1.

With severe influenza epidemics in many sections of the state and health officers and public health nurses working overtime taking care of the sick, appeal may be made to the legislature by health officers to restore to the budget amounts which were cut off by former Governor Davis in order to take care of the deficiency and also to insure these salaries for the next biennium.

Health Director Monger and Governor Donahay are in receipt of letters of protest from the Columbus Urban league in connection with the abolishing of the position held by John C. Logan in the state department of health. The letters request that Logan be allowed to carry on his work. They call particular attention to the health problem of the colored people of the state, citing the extremely high death rates. They also urge that some competent colored physician be appointed to further carry on this work.

Final action on the Taft taxation bill is expected in the house this week. Another public hearing is scheduled for tonight. This bill fixes the tax limitation at 17 mills in cities and 14 mills in rural districts. Leaders are said to be committed to a gasoline tax as a revenue producing measure. This was indicated last week when they sent a committee to Pennsylvania and Maryland to study the gas tax laws of those states. Automobile clubs have not yet given up hope of defeating this proposal and others seeking to add more burdens on the automobile owners.

The Herbert house bill to establish a state criminal identification bureau is encountering opposition from members who object to creating new offices. Herbert has estimated that it will cost not to exceed $15,000 a year to establish and maintain such a bureau and says it would be a tremendous saving in apprehension of criminals and preventing crime. His bill would create machinery to work with a national criminal identification system that has been worked out by W. J. Burns, head of the government secret service.

W. Albert Davis, former state finance director, upon whom demands were made by Governor Donahay for the department records, missing from the state files, called in person at the capitol last evening and delivered the documents. Davis refused to deliver the records to anyone except the governor, and after a brief interview with Donahay declared the whole controversy arose from a misunderstanding.

"These records were all available in the auditor's and budget commission's offices," said Davis. "After talking with Finance Director Baker, I had supposed that they had everything they wanted."

WOMAN RETAINS POST AT BELOIT

Mrs. Burns Is Reappointed Postmistress, Having Highest Grade.

After being recommended by Congressman John G. Cooper for reappointment as postmistress at Beloit, Mrs. Cora Burns has been appointed by President Harding to succeed herself, she having the highest grade of the three eligible candidates for the position. The candidates in their standing were as follows: Mrs. Cora Burns, Mrs. Ruth Tatsch and Mrs. Rhea French.

Mrs. Burns has been in the post-office employment about 12 years, having been a clerk in the post offices both of Sebring and Beloit. In 1914 she took the required civil service examination and secured the appointment as postmistress at Beloit nine years ago. In 1922 the postoffice was advanced to a third class office, necessitating a civil service examination to be held. This took place Sept. 3, 1922, at which she received the highest grade and received the appointment as postmistress a few days ago.

The Man Behind Her
By MYRA CURTIS LANE

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)
Symons touched his bell, and Miss Beverly entered. She was a pretty young woman of twenty-seven and had been Symons' confidential secretary for four years. In the office with Symons was his son, Edward, a rather absolute-looking young man of thirty, and the apple of his father's eye.

By means of the E. P. patent old Symons had built up a nationwide business and become a millionaire. Whenever he looked at his son he thought of his own humble beginnings and vowed that Edward should never experience hardship in life.

Miss Beverly came in. "Take a chair, Miss Beverly," said old Symons.

Agnes Beverly sat down. She looked at him and saw the storm gathering. Old Symons was a tiger in his outbursts of almost frantic frenzy sometimes.

"Miss Beverly," he began, in an ominous, soft purring note, "with regard to that product of the Atkinson company, which has been worrying us so long—I've been following up my investigations."

"Yes, Mr. Symons?"

"We've narrowed the field down considerably. We have proof positive that the person who betrayed our plans to them is one of our force. We've eliminated the workshops. We know who it is."

Miss Beverly leaned forward breathlessly. "Yes, Mr. Symons?"

"It's you!" thundered the old man, smashing down his fist upon the table.

And his keen eyes bored into her face.

"It's you—you whom I placed in a position of trust and confidence. You who have betrayed me! The choice lies between two persons alone, who have access to our plans—you and my son. It is needless to say which of them it is."

"I have never been deceived in any one before, but I was deceived in you. I paid you a good salary—an enormous salary. You are not, so far as I know, in need. There was no temptation."

"Miss Beverly, treachery is the one act that I never forgive. If it had been my son"—he cast a look on the young man which made him drop his eyes in embarrassment—"though he is all I have in the world, I would have flung him into the gutter like a dog."

"I do not wish, however, to be a hard man. I want to understand this action of yours. What motive induced you to betray me? How much did they pay you for it?"

"I—I am not allowed to answer."

"You admit it, of course?"

Miss Beverly said nothing, but if ever gull was written on any person's face it was on hers.

"You have already admitted it by your last remark. You sold me, then, for money. What was your need of money? Some lover in the Atkinson firm?"

"Mr. Symons, I will not stay to be insulted."

"I say there was a man behind it. Some man who induced you to commit this act of awful treachery. I want to know his name."

Miss Beverly was still silent.

"I will pay you"—the great fist thumped on the table again—"five thousand dollars for his name. Will you accept?"

"No."

"You betray one man—why not another? You have some spark of decency in you, then?"

Miss Beverly said nothing at all, but she was staring hard at Symons out of her tear-filled eyes.

"And I will not prosecute. I will only horsewhip the cur as he deserves. Ten thousand, and my last offer?"

"No." Miss Beverly's voice was hard and clear. She got up from her chair.

"Mr. Symons, I have neither admitted nor denied this charge of yours. Whether it is false or true, it is obvious that I can no longer remain in your service."

"Oh, you see that?" asked old Symons, with a sneer.

"I see that, and I am going."

"Go!" He swore at her. "Let me try to forget that I have made a mistake in trusting any one."

Miss Beverly went out, but she lingered at the door and, by a peculiar slight movement of her head, conveyed the intimation to young Symons that she would wait outside for him. After a while he came out, hurriedly.

"You are a brick! To do this for me—"

"For you?" she echoed, contemptuously. "Do you think I did it for you? I did it for him—for the man who believed in me. I did it for him, because it would have broken his heart to know that the traitor was the one human being on earth he loved. That's why I did it!"

One Way Out.
It was the drawing lesson and a class of small children were drawing from memory. They had been told to draw a river, with two figures sitting on the bank, one of whom was to be fishing.

The teacher was going around the class, when she came to a small boy who had finished his drawing.

She looked at his paper and was surprised to find only a river.

"Why, Jack," she said, "where are the two people I told you to draw?"

"Well, you see, Miss Jones," he answered. "I'm not very good at drawing people, so I've put up a notice 'Trespassers Will Be Prosecuted.'—Kansas City Star."

LOSES IN CABINET DISPUTE

His Friends, However, Declare His Conservation Ideas Are Sane—How Lumbering Methods Have Been Changed in Recent Years.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—In the dispatches which have treated of possible reasons for the desire of Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall to retire from the cabinet on March 4 the forestry situation has been foremost.

It is known that Secretary Fall when he entered the cabinet intimated he might like to retire to engage in private business pursuits within a year or two. Washington is a gossipy place, and therefore it has been more than intimated that disagreement with the administration on forestry matters rather than an earnest desire to retire to private life is responsible for Mr. Fall's resignation. No one knows definitely the truth. Some enthusiasts—fanatical foresters, some persons call them—have insisted that Mr. Fall is not in sympathy with conservation endeavors. This is denied by his son, Mrs. Ray Stanley and Miss Helen Cronick were shopping in Salem Thursday.

Russell Frantz has been helping Ward Allen for the past week, while the family have all been suffering from the grippe.

ASK RECOGNITION FOR BIG SERVICES

CONGRESS URGED TO GIVE RANK OF LIEUTENANT GENERAL TO FOUR ON RETIRED LIST.

PRECEDENT FOR SUCH ACTION

Liggett, Dickman, Crowder and Wood Deserve the Honor, but Popular Reaction Against "War Stuff" Has Prevented the Award.

Washington.—There are certain members of congress, men of both parties, who think that the reaction in the public mind from war and military affairs generally has worked gross injustice to officers who did fine things for their country during the World war. Everybody realizes that this kind of ours is tired of hearing of war and of war's happenings, but some Democrats and some Republicans in law-making places think that the mental attitude of the United States ought not to prevent proper recognition of the services of men who were willing to give all that they had to their country in time of need.

There is a proposal in congress to confer the rank of Lieutenant general on these officers on the retired list of the American army who have reached the age limit: Maj. Gen. Hunter Liggett, Maj. Gen. Joseph H. Dickman, Maj. Gen. Enoch H. Crowder and Maj. Gen. Leonard Wood.

After the war between the states congress honored by promotion to the rank of Lieutenant general several officers of high service, and it did this largely on the urging of the people on behalf of the men for whom promotion was proposed. Today few people seem to care whether the men who did all that was in them in the World war receive any reward or not. Such reward as can come to them will be in a way only sentimental, but so far the reaction against anything which suggests war or honors is preventing the American people from asking that their servants in the time of crisis shall be honored as other servants in like times have been honored before.

Great Service of These Men.

Take the case of Major General Liggett. He commanded over one million men in battle, five times as many as were under the orders of any one general of the Civil war. Liggett was a fighting soldier and a successful one. He commanded an army, a huge army, and yet today he is on the retired list of the service with the rank of that of a man who commands only a division.

And there is Major General Crowder, judge advocate general of the United States army, who is about to retire after forty-five years of service. It was Crowder who framed and directed the draft after the United States entered the war. The process of the draft was carried through without disturbance and without scandal. It was said to be the greatest performance of kind in history.

Major General Wood was an apostle of preparedness. It is not only definitely said today, but it is definitely known that if Wood had not insisted on the establishment of the training camps the draft army of the United States would have had no trained officers. Military men say that Wood saved a situation and saved the country.

As for General Dickman, it was as a major general that he commanded the Third division which hurled the Germans back over the Marne and turned the tide toward victory. Later he commanded the First corps in the Argonne and later yet the army of occupation in Germany.

Why Some in Congress Object.

There are a great many reasons why congress is not anything like unanimously inclined toward the proposal to honor men who the records show deserve honor. The chief reason is the mental attitude of the constituents of the congressmen toward war and military affairs generally. Washington has evidences every day not only that the people want to forget the war, but that they are perfectly willing to forget the men who served them during the war, barring only of course those who suffered from its bullets and its physical hardships. The friends here of the army that served and saved urge that the country cannot afford to forget the men who brought success to American arms, and in a sense made war on war, for it will be remembered that even the advanced pacifists of the country declared that the last war might after all be right because it was to make war impossible in the future.

Some time ago congress refused to honor a certain navy official because it was said he talked too much. This officer served his country with great distinction in high place. He did talk some but he talked with the courage of a sailor and he paid the penalty. What he said was generally believed to be true by the men who objected to his saying it, but the argument of some men is that the truth should not always be spoken.

Some of the army men say they hope one day the people will remember that the honoring of a man who served them well does not necessarily carry with it an endorsement of war.

WILLARD TO START TRAINING AT ONCE FOR JOHNSON BOUT

New York, Feb. 9.—Having signed with all due ceremony to meet Floyd Johnson at the new Yankee park, May 12, in a quasi-preliminary bout to a possible return match with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship, Jess Willard today announced his intention of going into intensive training immediately.

The great open spaces are calling and within a comparative few days, Jess intends to forsake the big, unfeeling city for rural peace and comfort. He has no inclination to repeat his faux pas of Toledo.

"I was foolishly over-confident of beating Dempsey but this time I will take no chances," he said. "When I meet Johnson, I intend to be in almost perfect condition and I will fight as I never did before. It is a serious business with me this time."

Willard plans to seek some quiet spot, far enough from New York to discourage chance visit, from the curious, and at the same time, have Ray Archer, his man of business, within call whenever necessary. He has Lakewood, N. J., in mind, not only because of its geographic excellence but also in view of the comparatively mild weather, which will permit road work.

"I will do more running in the country this time," he declared, "but I'm not going to run myself silly either, as some of my critics claimed I should have done at Toledo."

"My great mistake," he added, earnestly, "was in kidding myself into believing I had a cinch. So many critics had stated that I couldn't be hurt. I really took the matter for granted. I know better now."

Kilbane In Training To Meet Frenchman

Cleveland, Feb. 9.—Johnny Kilbane, world's featherweight champion, who defends his title against Eugene Criqui, French contender at Madison Square Garden, is taking off weight, playing hand ball. As soon as the weather permits he will begin strenuous training at his camp near Lorain.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that stops eczema, and that is more red-blood-cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that a Blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Themselves just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its scarring, unsightly, itchy, red, pimpled, blackened and holed, they all pack up and go when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! S. S. S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1820! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body builders known to us mortals! With your pure facts together when you continue to have eczema and skin eruptions, looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes:

"My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and we were now, I thank you very much. I tell my friends what good medicine it is. I cannot speak too much about it, Mrs. O. K."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red-blood-cells, it roots rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills our hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are rundown. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical."

Was About to Undergo Operation

Camden, N. J., 2817 Polk Ave.
Mr. E. R. Page, Marshall, Mich.

Dear Sirs—You will have to excuse me for not answering your letter sooner, but I wanted to convince myself of the merit of your treatment before replying.

Now in regards to the treatment I cannot praise it too highly.

After months of continual pain I was surprised how quickly your treatment worked.

I tried several different kinds of treatments and I found them all were about the same as yours. Yours truly,

Cured After Suffering Untold Agony

E. R. Page Co., Marshall, Mich.
My Dear Friends—I received your kind favor. One week ago yesterday I was in bed helpless. Today I have cleaned my four rooms, cared for my children and for fine, and taking medicine and a good deal of food since I would have been dead if I hadn't gotten some relief. I was bleeding so, and oh the agony. I cannot find words to express my thanks to you. I am feeling fine and do not know I ever had the piles.

A sincere friend,
MRS. M. L. BUCKNER,

Spent Hundreds of Dollars

Had Both Protruding and Bleeding Piles

Mr. E. R. Page, Marshall, Mich.

Dear Sirs—I am glad to say my medicine has helped me and the last package has cured me. I have been two months without any medicine and have had a great deal of relief since. It is a wonderful remedy.

When I sent for the first treatment

I was not able to get on my feet and suffered terribly. It was the protruding and bleeding piles again.

Now I could not rest and I have given up to have an operation; but I read of this remedy and so I gave it a trial. It has saved me from a lot of suffering—also many operations.

I am very anxious to praise the Page Pile Method. I am glad there is a remedy for piles as I do not think much of these operations. I am feeling fine and glad I found out about your wonderful medicine. Will always recommend it.

Yours truly,
MRS. NINA YOUNGBLOOD,

Little Boy Cured in a Week

Mr. E. R. Page, Marshall, Mich.

Dear Sirs—After I had given three of the best doctors in this town a chance to do something for my little son, he was the only chance for him, so I let them all go and never did any more for the boy until I tried your treatment. It was not a week ago when they had bleeding piles off and on, for six years;

couldn't get anything to cure them until I read your ad in the daily paper. The sample we sent cured me—I haven't been bothered since.

Yours truly,
J. S. MCCLAIN,

This method of treating Piles, from the INSIDE instead of the OUTSIDE is not a new idea or something that has not been given a thorough test. In another place on this page we quote from a letter received from a patient who took our treatment 18 years ago and has never had the slightest return of his trouble.

The one BIG recommendation of this method of treatment is the PERMANENCY of the benefits derived.

Another case speaks of having been healed after six torturing years of bleeding piles, and this was accomplished by our trial package alone.

Surely if you are ever troubled with piles, you will send the coupon from this page and receive the trial treatment.

Remember—that we have not asked you for so much as a postage stamp. We have not asked you to Buy Anything. And what is more, we are Not Going to ask you to buy a penny's worth of anything until After we have sent you a liberal Free trial of this treatment and given you the opportunity to test it and try it. That is our way of doing business. So you are not running any risk when you send the coupon and nothing but Good can come to you from answering this offer.

If you do not happen to be suffering with your piles this moment, but are subject to occasional spells of trouble, send for this Free Trial just the same and keep it at hand for your future help.

If you are not troubled with Piles yourself, but have a friend who is, then send us your friend's name and tell him or her that you have done so.

Don't put off the matter of sending the Coupon, for it will be much better to have this sure relief right at hand the next time your piles bother you than to hunt around for our address and then wait two or three days for the package to reach you. Send your name and address Now.
